

First, please excuse my bad English!

I live in France. I worked for Royal Canin until the end of last year and I spend a lot of time for the French Boxer Club too and now Wubox.

I have done my first Boxer litter more than 30 years ago now (Bellemanie kennel), despite I am not that old!!!

Since that time, I never stop breeding, looking for bloodlines, going to shows all over the world to understand the Boxer.

I like the Boxer powerful but very elegant, with that so important Boxer expression on his face. The body should be strong with perfect angulations to have a beautiful movement.

I had some success in breeding with Cyrius de Bellemanie (Atibox young champion and best in show), G'M de Bellemanie (multi European champion), Gucci, Email, Birdie, Picasso...

I still breed today but my wife does most of the work (thank you Sophie !) because I devote myself more in judging. I judge until 2009, 6 to 8 times per year.

I have been judging in France (two times the championship) of course, but also in Spain (Championship and Cacib), Czech republic, Latvia, England, USA....

I think it is very interesting to judge in different countries and see different way of breeding boxers and meet so different and interesting people.
